

In the Disclosure

In response to the examiners objection to that disclosure, applicant provides a new disclosure document, one document is redlined and the other document is a clean version of the redlined disclosure as suggested by the examiner. Copies of each are included with this response.